

What any spatial model could reach, given how much two neighbouring points disagree

